English Cheered by Acts of Their Airmen in Dropping Bombs On Enemy—No Change of Consequence in the Battle Lines Along the Aisne—French Advance Slightly.

FRENCH ADVANCE

By Associated Press.

Paris, September 24.—The allies have advanced considerably along their western wing, occupying the town of Peronne despite desperate resistance, according to the official announcement of the French War Department this afternoon. At the eastern of the battle line in France, there has been heavy firing on the river Meuse, the allies alternately advancing and retreating.

BRITON JOINS JAP

By Associated Press.

Tokio, Japan, September 24.—The war office makes the official announcement that the British troops, under General Barnardiston, commander of the North China forces, landed, on September 23 in the neighborhood of Laoshan Bay, to participate in the movement against the Germans at Tsing-Tau.

By Associated Press.

London, September 24.—Virtually no new information has reached London this morning, concerning the progress of events in the western war area, but from the east comes news which here is taken to show that Russia has almost completed the first stage of what may be considered the most colossal operation ever undertaken by a military power.

The fall of the Austrian fortress of Jaroslaw virtually completes the investment of Przemyśl, so far as lines of communication are concerned.

By her conquests in Galicia, Russia now controls the greatest supply of gasoline in Europe. This product is of the utmost importance to Russia because of her necessity for motor transport.

The Russian movement is now described as a huge wedge, the right line of which extends, roughly, from Libau, on the Baltic, along the railroad line to Warsaw. It protects the Austrian sources of supplies and prevents any outflanking movement against the Russian army of attack, which already, according to news in London, is beginning to operate in the direction of Posen and Breslau, in Germany. The occupation of Galicia links up the Warsaw railroad system and is regarded in London as insuring both supplies and reinforcements for the attacking army.

That the stage is virtually set for this attack is indicated by the news that the Germans are hastily reinforcing their lines between Thorn and Kalisz.

Not only have the Russians cut off Austria's domestic supply of gasoline but the ban on the exportation of coal to Austria, reported from Roumania, may be followed, it is held there, by a similar measure with regard to gasoline. This would virtually deprive Austria and her ally of this very necessary product for their automobile transport and aerial service.

Combined Montenegrin and Serbian forces are said today to be in occupation of the entire southeast section of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The British public, this morning, is expressing elation at the feat of British airmen in having dropped bombs on Zeppelin airships, near Cologne, and confidence is growing that Great Britain is better protected than heretofore believed from an aerial assault by Germany.

The correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company at Berlin, in a dispatch reaching here via Amsterdam, transmits an official report given out at army headquarters. This announcement is dated September 23, evening, and is as follows:

"The right wing of the German west army beyond the river Oise has been engaged in battle with the French, who tried unsuccessfully to envelope it, Eastward, as far as the Argonne Forest, there were no important engagements today. To the east of the Argonne region Varennes was captured in the course of the day and the attack is proceeding. German troops, attacking the French forts south of Verdun, victoriously repulsed a violent counter attack made Verdun, Toul and across the river Meuse. The heavy artillery used against Troyon-Les-Paroches, Camp-Des-Romains and Luneville, was visibly successful. In French-Lorraine and on the Alsace frontier, French advance guards have at some points been repulsed. There has been no decisive action at any point. No news has been received from either the Belgian or the eastern theaters of war."

Paris, September 24.—The following official announcement was made in Paris this afternoon: "First: On our left wing, between the river Somme and the river Oise, our troops have advanced in the direction of Roye. A detachment occupied Peronne and held this position in spite of a spirited attack on the part of the enemy.

Between the river Oise and the river Aisne the enemy continues to maintain important bodies of troops, well entrenched.

Second. To the east of the Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse, the enemy has continued his attacks, delivering them with especial violence. The fighting continues, accompanied by alternate retirements at certain points and advances at others.

In the region of Nancy and in the Vosges certain detachments of the enemy have again attempted to enter upon French soil, driving back light covering bodies of our troops, but their offensive was soon stopped."

GRAVES UPHELD

Columbus, O., September 24.—The clerk of the Supreme court of Ohio is appointive by the court and not elective by the people, according to a decision handed down by the Supreme Court today. The Court denies the writ of mandamus asked by Frank G. McKean, of Cleveland, present incumbent and Democratic nominee for reelection, to compel Secretary Graves to place his name on the official ballot, to be voted for in the coming November election. McKean brought the suit to settle the point of law involved. Joseph G. Obermeyer, of Cincinnati and Columbus, was given the Republican nomination, which proves to be worthless. The Supreme court, as organized at present, is Democratic.

DANIELS ACTS

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 24.—Secretary Daniels today ordered the Marconi wireless station at Siasconset, Mass., closed at noon tomorrow, in consequence of the failure of the company to give assurance that it would comply with naval censorship regulations.

PRAYERS ASKED

Columbus, O., September 24.—Gov. Cox today issued a proclamation requesting the people of Ohio to set aside October 4 as a day of prayer for peace in Europe. The Governor's proclamation is in line with that issued by President Wilson, calling on the people to pray for the ending of the conflict.

The governor also asked that the schools set aside Friday, October 2, for peace observance.

BEY WILL QUIT U.S.

Washington, September 24.—A. Rustem Bey, the Turkish Ambassador, has informed President Wilson that he does not alter the views he recently expressed in a public interview and will leave the United States within a fortnight.

The announcement of the withdrawal of the Turkish Ambassador, though not unexpected, caused a profound sensation in diplomatic circles.

It was understood the administration would let it be known that the President would decline to receive diplomats who make comments which he considers obnoxious. The Turkish Ambassador's interview, however, was considered particularly objectionable by the administration, and Secretary Bryan, at the President's direction, asked the Ambassador to refrain from such expressions.

The Turkish Ambassador refused to discuss his action further than to say he had asked his government for leave of absence, which he was certain would be granted, and would leave for Constantinople within ten days.

CARRANZA READY TO GIVE VILLA REAL RESISTANCE

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 24.—General Carranza has informed the United States government he will not attack General Villa, but will order his forces to be on the defensive and resist attack.

The first chief's communication declared the National convention would be held, as scheduled, on October 1, when a provisional government would be established, which he hoped would be satisfactory to the United States.

After a talk with President Wilson, Secretary Daniels said that the trouble between Carranza and Villa would not change the plans for the fleet in Mexican waters. He added that it has been the intention to keep ships at Vera Cruz until after the withdrawal of the troops and that this course would be followed.

LOOKS SERIOUS

Already General Zapata has refused to send delegates to the convention and officials would not be surprised if Zapata and Villa joined forces against Carranza. Together, they would have about 60,000 to 70,000 men. Carranza indicated to the American officials who conferred with him that, irrespective of the Zapata-Villa faction, a large part of the Constitutional forces would be represented.

EFFORTS FOR PEACE

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, September 24.—Efforts are being made here to patch up the break between Carranza and Villa, it was announced today.

Every effort was made to conceal the break, but news of it leaked out sent. Official reports indicate that the convention will be loyal to Carranza if the present system of representation is not changed.

The gravity of the situation was indicated today when Jules Jusserand, the French Ambassador, called on Robert Lansing, Assistant Secretary of State, to learn details of the Carranza-Villa break. The report which reached embassies and legations here was that Carranza had not been manifesting a pacific attitude and that trouble was growing.

Secretary Bryan, who had gone to Asheville, N. C., for his health, kept in touch with President Wilson and the State Department by telephone.

TROOPS MOVING

By Associated Press.

El Paso, Texas, September 24.—If General Villa's revolt against the Carranza government results in armed revolution, the first battle probably will occur at the old battle grounds of either Torreon or Zacatecas. General Villa today prepared to rush his troops south from Juarez and Chihuahua City to meet a strong force of Carranza soldiers moving north. All was astir in Chihuahua.

According to estimates, Villa controls nearly forty thousand troops. Carranza's forces comprise the unified force of General Pablo Gonzales, number about 30,000 men, and those of the west coast troops under Obregon, which participated in the entry of the national party.

PLANS UNCHANGED

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 24.—It was officially stated at the White House today that the latest trouble between General Carranza and Gen.

Villa would not alter the plans of the United States as to withdrawing troops from Vera Cruz, or the status of the embargo on arms. No date has been fixed for moving the troops.

CANADA SENDS 32000 TROOPS

By Associated Press.

St. John's, N. B., September 24.—T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor of the Dominion of Canada, announced today that 32,000 Canadian volunteers "have gone to the front a day or two ago." Mr. Crothers made the announcement in a speech before the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress in convention here. He extolled the patriotic spirit of the Canadian volunteers.

The foregoing brief dispatch is the only announcement which the Canadian censor has permitted to go over the wires regarding the disposition of the Canadian volunteers, for more than a week. Beyond the bare announcement that the Canadian volunteers had sailed, no other news of the departure was permitted to get past the censor this afternoon.

MARKET NORMAL

By Associated Press.

Pittsburg, September 24.—The crude oil market returned to its normal basis today when announcement was made by the South Pennsylvania Oil Company that it would buy all the oil producers had to offer.

BANKS HOARD MONEY

McAdoo Threatens to Withdraw Government Deposits.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo issued a statement in which he announces that an investigation by the comptroller of the currency has disclosed excessive hoarding of money on the part of many national banks in various sections of the country with an accompanying increase of interest rates far beyond reasonable requirements.

So convincing was the result of the investigation with regard to hoarding of reserves and raising of interest rates by the southern banks that the secretary has decided to withhold the second installment of the crop deposits which ordinarily would have been sent to southern reserve cities in a short time. He sent a telegram to the banks in these reserve cities announcing his decision concerning the second installment of the crop fund, and stating further that he would withdraw all government deposits from and refuse issues of emergency currency to banks charging excessive interest rates and refusing reasonable accommodations to the business men of their communities.

As for banks in other sections of the country, as well as in the south, which have been guilty of this conduct, the secretary makes the threat that he will issue a daily list of those reported showing hoarding of reserves.

SPIES PREY ON ENGLISH

London, Sept. 24.—England's rage at the successful activities of German spies was given expression by Edgar Wallace, military expert, who declared that the British troops had been foiled in several well conceived campaign maneuvers to deliver smashing blows against the enemy through the supplying of information to Berlin. Mr. Wallace said the German general staff had been notified in advance of every important movement of English troops.

America to Observe Special Peace Day For Europe on Sunday, Oct. 4.

"O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, and who in thy Holy Word hast taught us that One is our Father, even God, and that all we are brethren: We pray thee in this dark hour of international strife that thou wilt open the eyes of the people and those who in thy Name are intrusted with the authority of governance to see and understand their right and true relation to thee, and through thee to one another. Teach them by thy spirit that hatred and violence are not strength but weakness; that the true safeguarding of a nation is not to be found in weapons of war but in those eternal principles which make for righteousness and truth and brotherhood and peace. Give to those who shall suffer in the war which is raging now the consolations of thy grace. Heal the sick, comfort the wounded, minister to the dying and bind up the broken heart. Bring us pray thee, to a speedy end this international strife, and hasten the time when peace shall flourish out of the earth, and all shall dwell together in unity and love, and war shall be no more. We ask it in the Name of Our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen!"

Prepared by Bishop Greer.

ST. AGNES C. M. J. B. Dykes 1886

God of the na- tions, near and far. Rul- er of all man- kind,

Bless Thou Thy peo- ple as they strive The paths of peace to find. A- men.

The clash of arms still shakes the sky,
King battles still with king—
Wild through the frighted air of night
The bloody tocsin rings.

But clearer far the friendly speech
Of scientists and seers,
The wise debate of statesmen and
The shouts of pioneers.

And stronger far the clasped hands
Of labor's teeming throngs,
Who in a hundred tongues repeat
Their common creeds and songs.

O Father! from the curse of war
We pray Thee give release,
And speed, O speed the blessed day
Of justice, love and peace.

President Wilson by proclamation has set aside Sunday, Oct. 4, as a national peace day. Peace services will be held in churches throughout the land, irrespective of denomination. Sermons for peace in Europe will be delivered, songs for peace will be sung and prayers for peace will be offered. A hymn entitled "Peace," written by John Haynes Holmes and sung to the music of "St. Agnes" by J. B. Dykes in 1886, here reproduced, has been recommended as the national peace day song by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and the Church Peace union. Among the peace prayers especially written for the day is one by Bishop Greer of the Episcopal church, also reproduced here.

CHANGES MADE BY CONFEREES

Washington, Sept. 24.—The Clayton bill, the last of the administration anti-trust bills, is out of the conference committee and again before congress. The conferees from the senate and house have been working on the bill for several weeks, trying to reconcile the differences represented by ninety-five separate amendments made by the senate to the house bill, and finally reached an agreement.

The Chilton amendment, of which Vice President Marshall was the author and which declared it unlawful for any corporation engaged in commerce to do business in another state contrary to the laws of the state under which it was incorporated or contrary to the laws of the state in which it might be doing business, was dropped from the bill. Senator Reed's amendment, providing that corporations adjudged to be monopolies by decree of a court should be placed in the hands of receivers and sold, was also eliminated from the bill.

The conference committee restored the house bill section in regard to interlocking bank directorates, but increased the capital stock of the banking concerns forbidden to have interlocking directors from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000.

The conferees restored sections 2 and 4 of the house bill, but rewrote them. Section 2 relates to price discrimination and section 4 to "tying contracts." These features of the anti-trust bill were the subjects of a long struggle. The house bill carried section 2, aimed at price discrimination, with penalties of fine and imprisonment. In rewriting it the conference committee omitted the penalties.

The conferees rewrote the court review section of the bill. This section confers on the interstate commerce commission jurisdiction over common carriers; gives the federal reserve board power to deal with banks and banking associations, and commits to the federal trade commission all other offenders against the act.

The conference adopted the amendments passed by the senate forbidding injunctions in labor disputes and practically legalizing picketing.

CRACOW IS RUSS GOAL

London, Sept. 24.—Large bodies of Cossacks are ranging the country south of the railroad between Rzeszow and Tarnow, and within seventy-five miles of Cracow.

The presence of a strong force of Russian cavalry in this district signifies that the movement to surround the Austrian field armies is being carried out energetically, and that the Russians, behind a cavalry screen, are moving steadily toward the ancient Polish capital.

The capture of the Jaroslaw forts, it is officially announced, has permitted the Russians to continue their westward advance. Przemyśl, where the Russians are bombarding the forts, has been isolated and is no longer regarded as a formidable obstacle to the advance against Silesia.

A human document that casts new light on a subject under hot discussion in this very community today.

YEGGS BLOW SELMA SAFE ESCAPE WITH $25 AND WATCH

Are Sighted at Jeffersonville by Marshall, but Evade Pursuit Through Field.

SAID TO HAVE COME TOWARD WASHINGTON

Bloodhounds Dispatched From Cedarville Lose Trail After Following For a Short Distance—Crib Crackers Were Six in Number and Came Into Jeffersonville on D. T. & I. Freight—Said to Have Overlooked $1000 in Safe—Helped Themselves Generously to Cigars.

The little village of Selma, near South Charleston, was terrorized during the night Wednesday by the visit of yeggmen, six in number, who blew open the safe in the Calvert general store at that place and made a clean getaway after securing 25 in money, a gold watch and a quantity of cigars. It is said the robbers failed to secure $1000 in a remote compartment of the safe that failed to respond to the force of the explosion.

Details of the robbery are lacking. What sort of explosive the yeggs used to accomplish their purpose has not been learned, nor how they gained their entrance, although the fact that the robbery was immediately discovered is indicated by the fact that Marshall O. M. Allen, of Jeffersonville, was called to the telephone about 2 o'clock Thursday morning, was told of the robbery and informed that the robbers were heading in the direction of Jeffersonville.

Surprised by Marshal.
Accordingly he watched the railroad and when a D. T. & I. freight pulled in near the station and stopped about 3:30 a. m., he began a search of the cars. Poking his flashlight into an empty box car he startled six rough looking characters, all white, apparently, who made a hasty exit through the door on the opposite side of the car. As the marshal had been cautioned to look for a party of this size and description, he determined that they were the men he was looking for. He started in pursuit, but by the time he had gained the opposite side of the track they had entered a cornfield and were sprinting across at high speed. He followed for a distance, but abandoned the chase when he found that he could not overtake them. He returned to the station, called Sheriff Nelson and sent to Cedarville for bloodhounds.

In the meantime the robbers evidently crossed the creek on reaching the end of the cornfield and continued through a large bluegrass pasture on the other side. In this way they could have again reached the railroad and, continuing in the direction in which they were headed, would have to pass through Washington.

Sheriff Answers Summons.
Sheriff Nelson on receiving the call secured an automobile and in company with Chief of Police Moore and Deputy Sheriff Nelson made a quick trip to Jeffersonville to aid in the search, which proved fruitless.

Bloodhounds Fail.
When the bloodhounds arrived, shortly after being summoned, an immense crowd had gathered, and when they secured the scent, half of the population of Jeffersonville was on the scene. The dogs had no difficulty in tracing the men through the cornfield and to the creek but further than this they were unable to trail and efforts to pick it up again on the other side were unavailing.

Police on Alert.
The local police are watching every means of entrance into the city and have been since the robbery was reported. The police in surrounding cities have been notified. It is thought, however, that the men have given up the idea of escaping by railroad and are either laying low or have resorted to other means of escape.

END OF THE EARTH.

The Latest Figuring Puts It Only Two Million Years Away.

Scientists tell us that life on the earth began about 2,000,000 years ago. It has generally been accepted that life will last for 95,000,000 years.

Ninety-five million years is a fairly long time. None of us who are alive today need worry about what will take place 95,000,000 years hence. Even the most altruistic can scarcely be inspired by love for an inconceivably remote posterity.

But the French savants are altogether disturbing. Here comes one, M. Veronet, who says that the earth will permanently freeze within the next 2,000,000 years and that life will vanish. This is bringing the tragedy nearer home. We would gladly accept the older reckoning.

Veronet places mankind of today about midway between the beginning and the end. He computes that in the future life will exist as long as it has already existed. He specifies only one forty-eighth as long a life as those who have studied in the past.

There is only one consolation to be derived from the Veronet reckoning. As far as the influence of today is concerned 2,000,000 years is as good as 95,000,000. In either event those who are comfortably laboring today cannot expect to be lovingly remembered when the cataclysm of ice makes the earth a barren wilderness.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

HIS TWO TENSE MOMENTS.

One Was a Ninth Inning and the Other at a Dinner Table.

I heard a prominent Cambridge man tell of the two most tense moments of his life yesterday. But the tension in each case was different.

"I doubt if I ever shall forget either occasion," he said reflectively. "They were big moments."

"The first was when I was in college. I was captain of the baseball team that year. We came to the end of the ninth. We needed one run to tie the score and another to win the game. Two men were down and two on the sacks when I came to bat. And for once in my career I did it. I lined out a three bagger, right over the railroad track. When I felt it go—well, that was one occasion."

"And the other," he chuckled, but a slow flush crept over his cheeks. "It was thirty years ago, soon after I left college. I went over to see a girl I thought was pretty nice and to meet her folks for the first time. I went on a Sunday. All the men were away. And they had duck for dinner." He stopped. "Ever carve a duck?" he asked meaningly. "No, neither had I before. Nor have I since." His flush deepened. "I never even went to see that girl again," he added plaintively.—Boston Journal.

Men and Oaks.

Once as I was botanizing under an oak I found among a number of other plants of similar height one that was dark in color with tightly closed leaves and a stalk that was very straight and stiff. When I touched it, it said to me in firm tones: "Let me alone. I am not for your collection, like other plants to which nature has given only a single year of life. I am a little oak."

So it is with a man whose influence is to last for hundreds of years. As a child, as a youth, often even as a full grown man—nay, his whole life long—he goes about among his fellows, looking like them and seemingly as unimportant. But let him alone. He will not die. Time will come and bring those who know how to value him.—Schopenhauer.

View From Mount Rigi.

The mountain of the Rigi, in Switzerland, commands a panorama of 400 miles in circumference, which includes the lovely lake of Lucerne, and is unsurpassed for beauty. The Rigi was known to only a few travelers in the eighteenth century, but after the peace of 1815 it became a resort for the curious, the first dwelling having been erected in 1814. Now many hotels are in a flourishing condition, and it is popular even in winter. There is a little chapel, with its walls covered with votive tablets, for many have been the victims in the ice gorges of this lofty peak.

Pipefish.

The pipefish take care of their young in a manner that is entirely peculiar. The newly laid eggs are taken care of by the male, which has a sort of fold on each side of its body. Beneath the "flaps" he keeps the eggs until the young are hatched and sufficiently grown to take care of themselves. While in the "flap" they are fed by the mother, upon whom falls the duty of foraging around for food.

No Postmortem Touch.

"Loan me $5 until Thursday, old man. If I live till then I'll surely pay you."

"All right. But if you succumb don't send anybody around to touch me for the funeral expenses."—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

AN OPTICAL ENIGMA.

Why is it the Human Eye Sees Things Right Side Up?

Just why we are able to see things right side up is a mystery which science has not yet been able to explain.

We know that the human eye involves the same optical principles as a camera. Owing to the fact that light always travels in a straight line and never in a curve, the rays which emanate from any object within our range of vision have to descend and ascend in order to travel into the narrow opening in the eye which corresponds to the camera's lens.

These rays finally reach a point where they intersect. Continuing on in straight lines, their relative position becomes just the reverse of what they were when they left the object seen.

Thus the image register on the retina of your eye is topsy turvy. Just as it is on the photographic plate in a camera. If you are looking at a house, for instance, the image your eye gets will show the chimneys down below, the foundation walls up above, and so on.

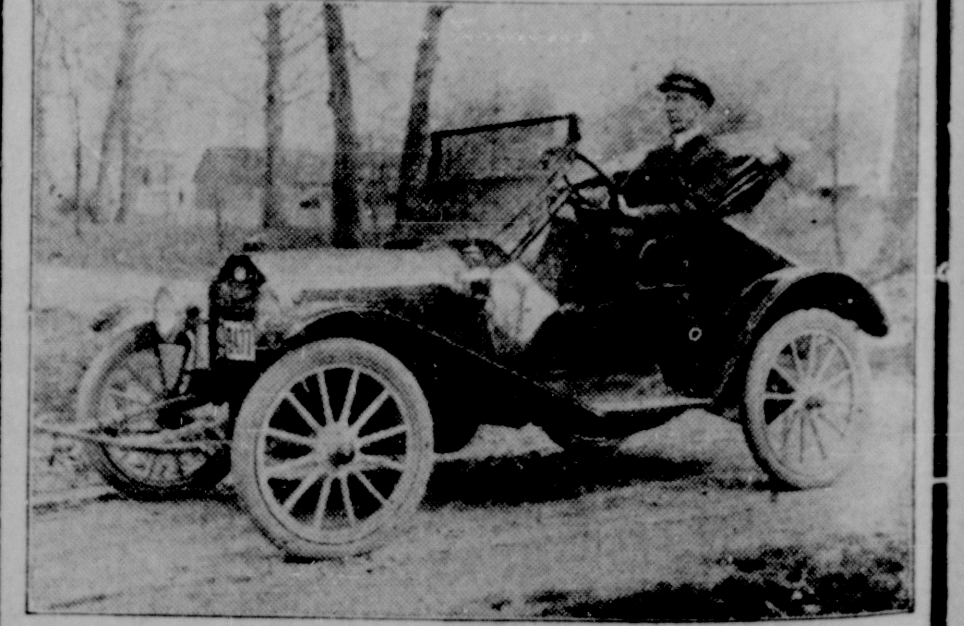

But the impression your brain gets reveals the house right side up unless you happen to be afflicted with a rare disorder, which results in everything always appearing topsy turvy.

During the infinitesimally short period required to flash the image seen from the eye's retina to the brain all the light rays which created the image are reassembled and put back in their proper places, so that the brain sees the object as it really is and not in the topsy turvy form it was registered on the retina. Just how this miracle is performed is what science would like to find out.—New York American.

Honesty the Best Policy.

Doubtless the sorest man in the United States today is the fellow who dropped his purse, containing $90, while he was robbing a chicken coop, and who is afraid to claim his property. Verily, honesty is the best policy.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

EXPERT PAYS WASHINGTON CEMETERY GLOWING TRIBUTE

And Praises the Work of Its Superintendent, Mr. George Gossard—Says It Is the Most Beautiful Burial Ground in Small Place He Has Ever Seen—Was Well Pleased with Visit to Buck Greenhouses.

A glowing tribute to the beauty of Washington cemetery and to Mr. George Gossard, who is responsible for its attractiveness and perfect upkeep, comes from the pen of a man recognized as an expert judge of such things, and who has visited the burial grounds of nearly all of the nation's greater cities, from coast to coast, Mr. F. H. Barnhart, of Findlay, O., secretary of the Ohio Funeral Directors' Association.

Mr. Barnhart was in the city a few weeks ago, as the guest of Undertaker Elmer Klever, and while here visited Washington cemetery. Commenting on his visit, in a letter to Mr. Klever, Mr. Barnhart says:

"I wish particularly to mention my visit to your cemetery and to express my appreciation of the courtesies shown me by the superintendent, Mr. Gossard. I am glad to know him and I want to tell you that I do not believe you know how fortunate you are to have a man like him to superintend your city cemetery. He is an artist, a gentleman and a landscape gardener not to be beaten.

"Your cemetery is a beauty and, I wish to say, one of the nicest, neatest, cleanest and most attractive cemeteries, I have ever seen. Mr. Gossard knows how to place the trees, shrubs, flowers, etc., in such a manner that the view from any point is restful and pleasing to the eye. Few persons can do this and, as I said before, you are exceedingly fortunate in having such a superintendent at Washington C. H.

"I have visited all the noted cemeteries in the United States, as you know, in my official capacity as secretary of the Ohio Association. When I visit a city, one of the first places I am taken to is the cemetery. I have seen many beautiful spots, but never one more pleasing, in a small place, than you have in your city, and I can not help telling you of it."

The tribute is one to quicken the pride of Washington, coming as it does, from a man so well acquainted with the subject on which he dwells. Washington cemetery has always been a pride to the community, but it will doubtless be a surprise to learn of the splendid way in which it compares with other cities.

While here Mr. Barnhart visited the Buck greenhouses and at the time remarked that he had never seen a better equipped and more perfectly conducted plant of its kind in his experience.

DEFENDANT DENIES MARRIAGE DATE

In Answer to Divorce Petition in Which He Seeks to Have Case Dismissed—Accuses Wife of Infidelity.

A rather unusual feature in a divorce case is presented in an answer filed in the Common Pleas court by Benjamin Franklin Clark to the divorce petition of his wife, Anna S. Clark, filed August 8. The defendant states that his wife, in her petition, erroneously stated that they were married in 1881, whereas the truth of the matter is that they were married in 1883.

He further accuses his wife of gross neglect of duty and abandonment. He declares that they lived happily together in their home in Oceola, O., from the time of their marriage until November of 1904, when Jesse Lampert, of Montana, came to live with them and that the latter "insinuated himself into and weaned away the affections of his wife, by holding out to her promises of money." This promise of money he alleges, was in the amount of $1000 with which, he declares, Lampert told her they would buy a home if she would accompany him to Montana.

The defendant avers that his wife did accompany Lampert to Montana and lived with him. She returned to him, he states, several times, only to go back to Montana. Later he says she went to Bucyrus where she has been living by herself for the past three years. As a result of her actions, he says, their four children have been badly influenced. One of these, Florence, is in the Industrial school at Delaware, and another, Mary, has been committed to the Children's Home at Mansfield.

In his prayer he asks that the petition be dismissed, that he be awarded the custody of the three minor children, and that the plaintiff be required to turn over to him the title for certain real estate of his which she holds. He is represented by Attorneys L. C. Feighner and E. A. Chaffin. C. E. Baughn represents the defense.

WOMAN ADMITS STEALING HORSE

Sheriff Sheets has returned from London where he secured from the sheriff of Madison county Maude Conrad, who was recently bound over to the grand jury of the October term of Pickaway Common Pleas, charged with the theft of a horse, the property of Seymour Bolin, of Derby.

The woman is charged with taking the horse from Bolin's pasture and taking it to the London stock sales where she offered it for sale for $100; she admits her guilt.

It is thought that there is a man implicated in the theft, whose identity has not been established.

MONTHLY MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Mite society was held at the Wesley Chapel church, Wednesday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Stuckey, opened the meeting by reading the Fifth Psalm. Papers were read by Mesdames Rodgers, Stuckey and Hughey. Recitations by Francis Blackmore and Elizabeth Snyder, were enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served during the social hour. The hostesses of the afternoon were Mesdames Anderson Hyer, Wm. DeWees, Laura DeWees, Wm. Himmler, Chas. Himmler, Tilton, Wyatt and Baker.

STAR FOOTBALL TEAM ORGANIZING

That Washington C. H. is to be represented this year by one of the strongest football teams in its experience, was indicated by an enthusiastic meeting of football men, held at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening and the line-up, as it now appears, will comprise principally of stars—warriors of college and high school gridirons of not long past who have won their letters and reputations by brilliant exploits on many fields.

From the material offered it is believed that the eleven will be drawn from a class of nearly twenty candidates, many of whom have, in days past, carried to glory the colors of Washington High school, and later figured in the victories of several of the state's prominent college elevens.

The meeting Wednesday night was of a preliminary nature and another was called for Monday evening when further steps of organization will be taken.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Whitlows and Felons.

A whitlow is an inflammation under the skin, usually on a finger. Felons start from whitlows. In a felon the inflammation has extended to the periosteum and sometimes to the sheath of a tendon. Any one who has had one knows how painful it is. The usual treatment is to apply tincture of iodine, alcohol, spirits of camphor or witch hazel and to poultice with flaxseed. This will generally give relief. When these remedies fail the felon has to be lanced. Lancing does not always cure, however, and Dr. Beverley Robinson of New York reports to the Medical Journal that he had success with such an obstinate felon by covering it with aseptic gauze soaked in equal parts of glycerin and saturated solution of epsom salts, renewed night and morning. During the day this dressing was removed for awhile and the finger was soaked in hot water and borax half an ounce of borax to a pint of hot water for fifteen or twenty minutes. After several weeks of wet dressing and soaking oxide of zinc ointment was applied. Dr. Robinson also gave tincture of gentian, one dram before meals, and found this beneficial.

Crafty Scotchman Had an Excellent Theory About Loans.

One of the shrewd lairds of Lanarkshire had evidently experienced the difficulty of collecting money lent to friends.

"Laird," a neighbor accosted him one morning, "I need £20. If ye'll be guid enough to tak ma note ye'll hae yere money back ag'in in three months frae the day."

"Nae, Donald," replied the laird, "I canna do it."

"But, laird, ye hae often done the like fer yere friends."

"Nae, mon, I canna oblige ye."

"But, laird—"

"Will ye listen to me, Donald? As soon as I took yer note ye'll draw the £20, would ye no?"

Donald could not deny that he would.

"I ken ye weel, Donald," the laird continued, "and I ken that in three months ye'd nae be ready to pay me ma money. Then, ye ken, we'd quarrel. But if we're to quarrel, Donald, I'd rather do it noo, when I hae ma £20 in ma pocket."—London "Tit-Bits"

GERMANY HOLDS GRIP ON FRANCE

BULLETIN.
New York, Sept. 24.—The Austro-Hungarian consulate here made public a report received by wireless from Vienna, as follows: "The cruiser Aenta (Austro-Hungarian), while blockading Montenegro, was attacked by the French man-of-war Escarrouche and sunk, after a heroic fight."

Paris, Sept. 24.—The twelfth day of the battle of the Aisne discloses the Germans maintaining their desperate grip on French soil, but with a line so bent at their right that Von Kluck's army must retreat unless Von Buelow can crush the allies' center. The fate of the German right depends upon the operations at the center within the next day or two, since the allies, by methods old in Napoleon's time, are hammering back the right wing, losing thousands as they take a trench at a time, advancing no more than five-eighths of a mile daily.

The main battle line now, from Lassigny to the ridge of the Argonne, 100 miles, is a double row of fortresses, from which allies and Germans sally in attack and counter attack, while great guns devastate by day and night. The government compares this extended siege to the slow operations in Manchuria between Russians and Japanese.

Government reports and military critics avoid premature gratulation, but insist that the allies are consistently succeeding in the all important endeavor to hold fast at the center while beating back and encircling the German right wing. Simultaneously, the allies are protecting their operations by repulsing German attacks at the east center and east of the long battle line. The grand duke of Wurttemberg and the German crown prince have struck blow after blow, but are incessantly hurled back. East of the Argonne and in the Vosges and Lorraine the French armies are a little more than holding their ground.

Cautious as the reports of the government are, it becomes more certain that the effort of the British and French to envelop the German right wing is succeeding. At the extreme west of the battle line French cavalry, with infantry supports and light artillery, is swinging in a wide semi-circle east of Amlens and toward St. Quentin, for the purpose of severing the communications of General Von Kluck's army and hastening his retreat. Meantime a great army of French and English have forced Von Kluck's army to defend itself on two sides, the west and south, and are persisting at great cost in the attempt to compel retreat or utterly envelop the German right wing.

VILLA-CARRANZA CLASH HAS COME

Disavows Authority of Constitutionalist Chief.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The break between Carranza and Villa has finally come, and unless a reconciliation can be brought about quickly Mexico will again be plunged into a revolution. This sudden turn of affairs again makes uncertain the immediate retirement of the American troops from Vera Cruz and the part which this government will be obliged to play in Mexico.

ADVANCE MUST BE VERY SLOW

Paris, Sept. 24.—The latest official communique reads: "The situation since the last communique was issued regarding the battle of the Aisne shows no change. The battle proceeding on the banks of the Aisne has lasted eight days, but there is no reason for astonishment if the battles of the Russo-Japanese war are recalled. The battle of the Marne was an action undertaken in open country, which ended in a general retaking of the offensive by the French armies against the enemy, who did not expect that and did not have time to organize defense positions seriously. This does not hold for the battle of the Aisne, where the enemy, who was retreating, stopped on positions which the nature of the ground made very solid in themselves and where he was able progressively to make better. This battle of the Aisne, therefore,

Villa has served notice on Carranza that the forces under his command will not attend the national convention of the Constitutionals to be held in Mexico City on Oct. 1, and also that he no longer recognizes Carranza as first chief.

The break between Carranza and Villa was announced officially by the Constitutionalist agency here. It was due to developments that followed Villa's arrest of General Obregon, one of Carranza's foremost lieutenants. When Carranza learned that one of his leading generals was a prisoner in Villa's hands, he ordered the railroad service discontinued north of Aguascalientes.

takes on the character of a siege on a large part of the front, analogous to the operations in Manchuria.

"It may be added that the exceptional strength of the opposing artillery gives a particular value to the temporary fortifications which the two adversaries have established. The problem is to win the successive trenches, all of which are behind accessory defenses, notably a series of barbed wire entanglements. In these conditions the advancement must be slow. It often happens that not more than 500 to 1,000 meters can be made in a day."

Feat of British Airmen.
London, Sept. 24.—Two squadrons of British naval airmen made a daring raid from Belgium against the German Zeppelin airship bases at Dusseldorf and Cologne. The attack upon Dusseldorf, 500 miles away, was officially reported as having been successful. Lieutenant C. H. Collet dropped three bombs there on a Zeppelin shed, sweeping down to within 400 feet of his target. The attack on Cologne apparently failed of its object.

"Knotty" History.

Tying knots in a handkerchief to jog one's memory had its origin in China thousands of years ago. Before writing was invented in that country, which did not happen until 3000 B. C., memorable and important events were recorded by long knotted cords. The most ancient history of China is still preserved as told by these knots. When Emperor Tschang Ki invented writing the entire system of "knotted" was abandoned. And today the memory knots made by us in handkerchiefs are the only surviving descendants of that ancient custom.

Cooper's Hawk.

The almost universal prejudice against birds of prey is due to the activities of a few members of the hawk family, chief among which is the Cooper's hawk. Cooper's hawk usually approaches under cover and drops on unsuspecting victims, making great inroads on poultry yards and game coverts. This bird, together with its two near relations, the sharp-shinned hawk and the goshawk, should be destroyed by every possible means.

FATAL CRASH

Fremont, O., Sept. 24.—George Hine, thirty, Sandusky auto race owner and George Parker, fifty-eight, Pitts county farmer, were killed, and Mrs. George Hine, J. D. Ward, manager of the Ohio Motor company, and Leroy Parker, son of George Parker, were fatally injured when the auto in which they were riding struck the side of the steel bridge over Green creek, throwing the occupants a distance thirty feet into a ditch. The auto rebounded after striking the bridge, shot across the bridge, turned turtle and was wrecked.

Corns Quit, Pains Stop, With "Gets-It"

Quit Plasters, Salves and What-Not.

After using "GETS-IT" once you will never again have occasion for asking, "What can I do to get rid of my corns?" "GETS-IT" is the first sure, certain corn-cure ever known.

Why "Suffer-Yet" With Corns? Use "GETS-IT." They'll Vanish!

If you have tried other things by the score and will now try "GETS-IT," you will realize this glorious fact. You probably are tired sticking on tape that won't stay stuck, plasters that shift themselves right onto your corn, contraptions that make a bundle of your toe and press right down on the corn. Put two drops of "GETS-IT" on that corn in two seconds. The corn is then doomed as sure as night follows day. The corn shrivels. There's no pain, no fuss. If you think this sounds too good to be true try it tonight on any corn, callus, wart or bunion. "GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago. "GETS-IT" is sold in Washington C. H. by Brown's Drug Store and Christopher's Drug Store. adv

BARON FANS THE FLAMES

Washington, Sept. 24.—There is trouble again in the Washington diplomatic camp. This time Baron Wilhelm Freiherr Von Schoen, an attaché of the German embassy, has disturbed the administration by giving out an interview in which he says that the Japanese consider war with the United States inevitable. Secretary Bryan discussed the interview with President Wilson, and it is likely that the state department will call the matter to the attention of the German ambassador and ask for an explanation. Baron Schoen was attached to the German embassy in Tokyo when war was declared by Japan and was handed his passports by the Tokyo government on that account. He recently arrived in the United States and is now attached to the embassy here.

Father of the Dreadnought. To the late Admiral Cuniberti, member of the Italian naval engineering staff, is due the credit of having suggested the modern Dreadnought. It was he, also, who suggested the modern type of scout, and he was one of the first to study the question of the application of liquid fuel to marine boilers. It was his influence which led to the adoption of this fuel in the Italian torpedo boat service.

PUSHING THE MARINE BILL

Will Be Considered at This Session of Congress.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The administration bill providing for the creation of an American merchant marine, to be partially owned by the government, received favorable consideration at the hands of the house committee on rules. The bill will be reported and considered at this session. The committee prepared and will present to the house a rule for the consideration of the shipping bill, whereby ten hours will be devoted to general debate, and the measure will follow immediately upon the consideration and passage of the emergency revenue bill. This action disposes of reports that have been circulated that the administration has abandoned the government ownership plan.

The house committee on rules modified the rule presented for its consideration by Majority Leader Underwood, whereby debate on the emergency revenue bill was to have been limited to four hours. The committee voted to extend the period of debate to seven hours, to be equally divided between the proponents and the opponents of the measure. Republican leaders are still protesting against the drastic character of the proposed rule.

RADIUM AND LIGHTNING.

And the Better Protection of Horses During Thunderstorms.

Radium has been discovered vastly to improve lightning rods in their protection of buildings during thunderstorms. Of course the enormous cost of radium prevents any practical use of the fact as yet. But there is a very fair possibility that the information gained in this way will lead to a new form of lightning rod which will be more efficient or that further experiments will show that a tiny quantity of radium at a reasonable cost will improve the protection.

The purpose of lightning rods, of course, is to catch the electrical currents in the air during a storm and lead them safely into the ground instead of allowing the lightning to pick its own course down through a house or church steeple, and their use is based on the principle that a metal rod will give the electricity a smoother path of less resistance than ordinary building material.

The whole trouble with lightning rods now is that, though they can be made to do the trick if the electrical discharge is near them, there is no way to lead electricity through the air to the rod. Radium will do this part of the work, as has been demonstrated in scientific experiments. Two milligrams of radium on the end of a rod made the air a considerable distance away a vastly better conductor.

Thus any electrical discharge within several yards of the rod had a path open for it along the radium rays to the rod and then down the rod to the earth.—Saturday Evening Post.

Sometimes Happens So.

The family had gone off for their holiday in a taxi. Twenty minutes later the taxi snorted back up the road.

"Forgotten the tickets?" cried a neighbor. "No," said the irate householder, "but my wife's just remembered that she's left a kettle boiling on the gas stove."

He dived into the house and came back the next moment with a ghastly calm on his face.

"All right now?" said the neighbor cheerily.

"Right! I'd forgotten that I'd turned the gas off at the meter, and now we've two hours and a half to wait for the next train."—Glasgow Dispatch.

Newspaper Advertising

Goes direct to the people and the people constitute the buying public. Newspaper advertising not only talks but it emphasizes; it has the undivided attention of the reader and covers a field no salesman can hope to reach. There are many styles in newspaper advertising and the small announcement, which costs only five cents, is just as effective in its way as the larger one, which costs proportionately more. The benefits to be derived can not be measured by the size of the ad, for the very good reason that the small, inexpensive announcement invariably proves effective. Newspaper advertising costs from five cents up to any price the advertiser desires to pay.

English Cheered by Acts of Their Airmen in Dropping Bombs On Enemy—No Change of Consequence in the Battle Lines Along the Aisne—French Advance Slightly.

FRENCH ADVANCE

By Associated Press.

Paris, September 24.—The allies have advanced considerably along their western wing, occupying the town of Peronne despite desperate resistance, according to the official announcement of the French War Department this afternoon. At the eastern of the battle line in France, there has been heavy firing on the river Meuse, the allies alternately advancing and retreating.

BRITON JOINS JAP

By Associated Press.

Tokio, Japan, September 24.—The war office makes the official announcement that the British troops, under General Barnardiston, commander of the North China forces, landed, on September 23 in the neighborhood of Laoshan Bay, to participate in the movement against the Germans at Tsing-Tau.

By Associated Press.

London, September 24.—Virtually no new information has reached London this morning, concerning the progress of events in the western war area, but from the east comes news which here is taken to show that Russia has almost completed the first stage of what may be considered the most colossal operation ever undertaken by a military power.

The fall of the Austrian fortress of Jaroslaw virtually completes the investment of Przemyśl, so far as lines of communication are concerned.

By her conquests in Galicia, Russia now controls the greatest supply of gasoline in Europe. This product is of the utmost importance to Russia because of her necessity for motor transport.

The Russian movement is now described as a huge wedge, the right line of which extends, roughly, from Libau, on the Baltic, along the railroad line to Warsaw. It protects the Austrian sources of supplies and prevents any outflanking movement against the Russian army of attack, which already, according to news in London, is beginning to operate in the direction of Posen and Breslau, in Germany. The occupation of Galicia links up the Warsaw railroad system and is regarded in London as insuring both supplies and reinforcements for the attacking army.

That the stage is virtually set for this attack is indicated by the news that the Germans are hastily reinforcing their lines between Thorn and Kalisz.

Not only have the Russians cut off Austria's domestic supply of gasoline but the ban on the exportation of coal to Austria, reported from Roumania, may be followed, it is held there, by a similar measure with regard to gasoline. This would virtually deprive Austria and her ally of this very necessary product for their automobile transport and aerial service.

Combined Montenegrin and Serbian forces are said today to be in occupation of the entire southeast section of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The British public, this morning, is expressing elation at the feat of British airmen in having dropped bombs on Zeppelin airships, near Cologne, and confidence is growing that Great Britain is better protected than heretofore believed from an aerial assault by Germany.

The correspondent of the Reuter Telegram Company at Berlin, in a dispatch reaching here via Amsterdam, transmits an official report given out at army headquarters. This announcement is dated September 23, evening, and is as follows:

"The right wing of the German west army beyond the river Oise has been engaged in battle with the French, who tried unsuccessfully to envelope it, Eastward, as far as the Argonne Forest, there were no important engagements today. To the east of the Argonne region Varennes was captured in the course of the day and the attack is proceeding. German troops, attacking the French forts south of Verdun, victoriously repulsed a violent counter attack made Verdun, Toul and across the river Meuse. The heavy artillery used against Troyon-Les-Paroches, Camp-Des-Romains and Luneville, was visibly successful. In French-Lorraine and on the Alsace frontier, French advance guards have at some points been repulsed. There has been no decisive action at any point. No news has been received from either the Belgian or the eastern theaters of war."

Paris, September 24.—The following official announcement was made in Paris this afternoon: "First: On our left wing, between the river Somme and the river Oise, our troops have advanced in the direction of Roye. A detachment occupied Peronne and held this position in spite of a spirited attack on the part of the enemy.

Between the river Oise and the river Aisne the enemy continues to maintain important bodies of troops, well entrenched.

Second. To the east of the Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse, the enemy has continued his attacks, delivering them with especial violence. The fighting continues, accompanied by alternate retirements at certain points and advances at others.

In the region of Nancy and in the Vosges certain detachments of the enemy have again attempted to enter upon French soil, driving back light covering bodies of our troops, but their offensive was soon stopped."

GRAVES UPHOLD

Columbus, O., September 24.—The clerk of the Supreme court of Ohio is appointive by the court and not elective by the people, according to a decision handed down by the Supreme Court today. The Court denies the writ of mandamus asked by Frank G. McKean, of Cleveland, present incumbent and Democratic nominee for reelection, to compel Secretary Graves to place his name on the official ballot, to be voted for in the coming November election. McKean brought the suit to settle the point of law involved. Joseph G. Obermeyer, of Cincinnati and Columbus, was given the Republican nomination, which proves to be worthless. The Supreme court, as organized at present, is Democratic.

DANIELS ACTS

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 24.—Secretary Daniels today ordered the Marconi wireless station at Siasconset, Mass., closed at noon tomorrow, in consequence of the failure of the company to give assurance that it would comply with naval censorship regulations.

PRAYERS ASKED

Columbus, O., September 24.—Gov. Cox today issued a proclamation requesting the people of Ohio to set aside October 4 as a day of prayer for peace in Europe. The Governor's proclamation is in line with that issued by President Wilson, calling on the people to pray for the ending of the conflict.

The governor also asked that the schools set aside Friday, October 2, for peace observance.

BEY WILL QUIT U.S.

Washington, September 24.—A. Rustem Bey, the Turkish Ambassador, has informed President Wilson that he does not alter the views he recently expressed in a public interview and will leave the United States within a fortnight.

The announcement of the withdrawal of the Turkish Ambassador, though not unexpected, caused a profound sensation in diplomatic circles.

It was understood the administration would let it be known that the President would decline to receive diplomats who make comments which he considers obnoxious. The Turkish Ambassador's interview, however, was considered particularly objectionable by the administration, and Secretary Bryan, at the President's direction, asked the Ambassador to refrain from such expressions.

The Turkish Ambassador refused to discuss his action further than to say he had asked his government for leave of absence, which he was certain would be granted, and would leave for Constantinople within ten days.

CARRANZA READY TO GIVE VILLA REAL RESISTANCE

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 24.—General Carranza has informed the United States government he will not attack General Villa, but will order his forces to be on the defensive and resist attack.

The first chief's communication declared the National convention would be held, as scheduled, on October 1, when a provisional government would be established, which he hoped would be satisfactory to the United States.

After a talk with President Wilson, Secretary Daniels said that the trouble between Carranza and Villa would not change the plans for the fleet in Mexican waters. He added that it has been the intention to keep ships at Vera Cruz until after the withdrawal of the troops and that this course would be followed.

LOOKS SERIOUS

Already General Zapata has refused to send delegates to the convention and officials would not be surprised if Zapata and Villa joined forces against Carranza. Together, they would have about 60,000 to 70,000 men. Carranza indicated to the American officials who conferred with him that, irrespective of the Zapata-Villa faction, a large part of the Constitutional forces would be represented.

EFFORTS FOR PEACE

By Associated Press.

Mexico City, September 24.—Efforts are being made here to patch up the break between Carranza and Villa, it was announced today.

Every effort was made to conceal the break, but news of it leaked out in certain circles, causing a sensation among military men. It was regarded as most serious. General Gozales, chief of the army of the east, has telegraphed Villa an appeal which gives eight reasons why Villa should reconsider his action and remain friendly to Carranza.

PLANS UNCHANGED

By Associated Press.

Washington, September 24.—It was officially stated at the White House today that the latest trouble between General Carranza and Gen.

Villa would not alter the plans of the United States as to withdrawing troops from Vera Cruz, or the status of the embargo on arms. No date has been fixed for moving the troops.

CANADA SENDS 32000 TROOPS

By Associated Press.

St. Johns, N. B., September 24.—T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor of the Dominion of Canada, announced today that 32,000 Canadian volunteers "have gone to the front a day or two ago." Mr. Crothers made the announcement in a speech before the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress in convention here. He extolled the patriotic spirit of the Canadian volunteers.

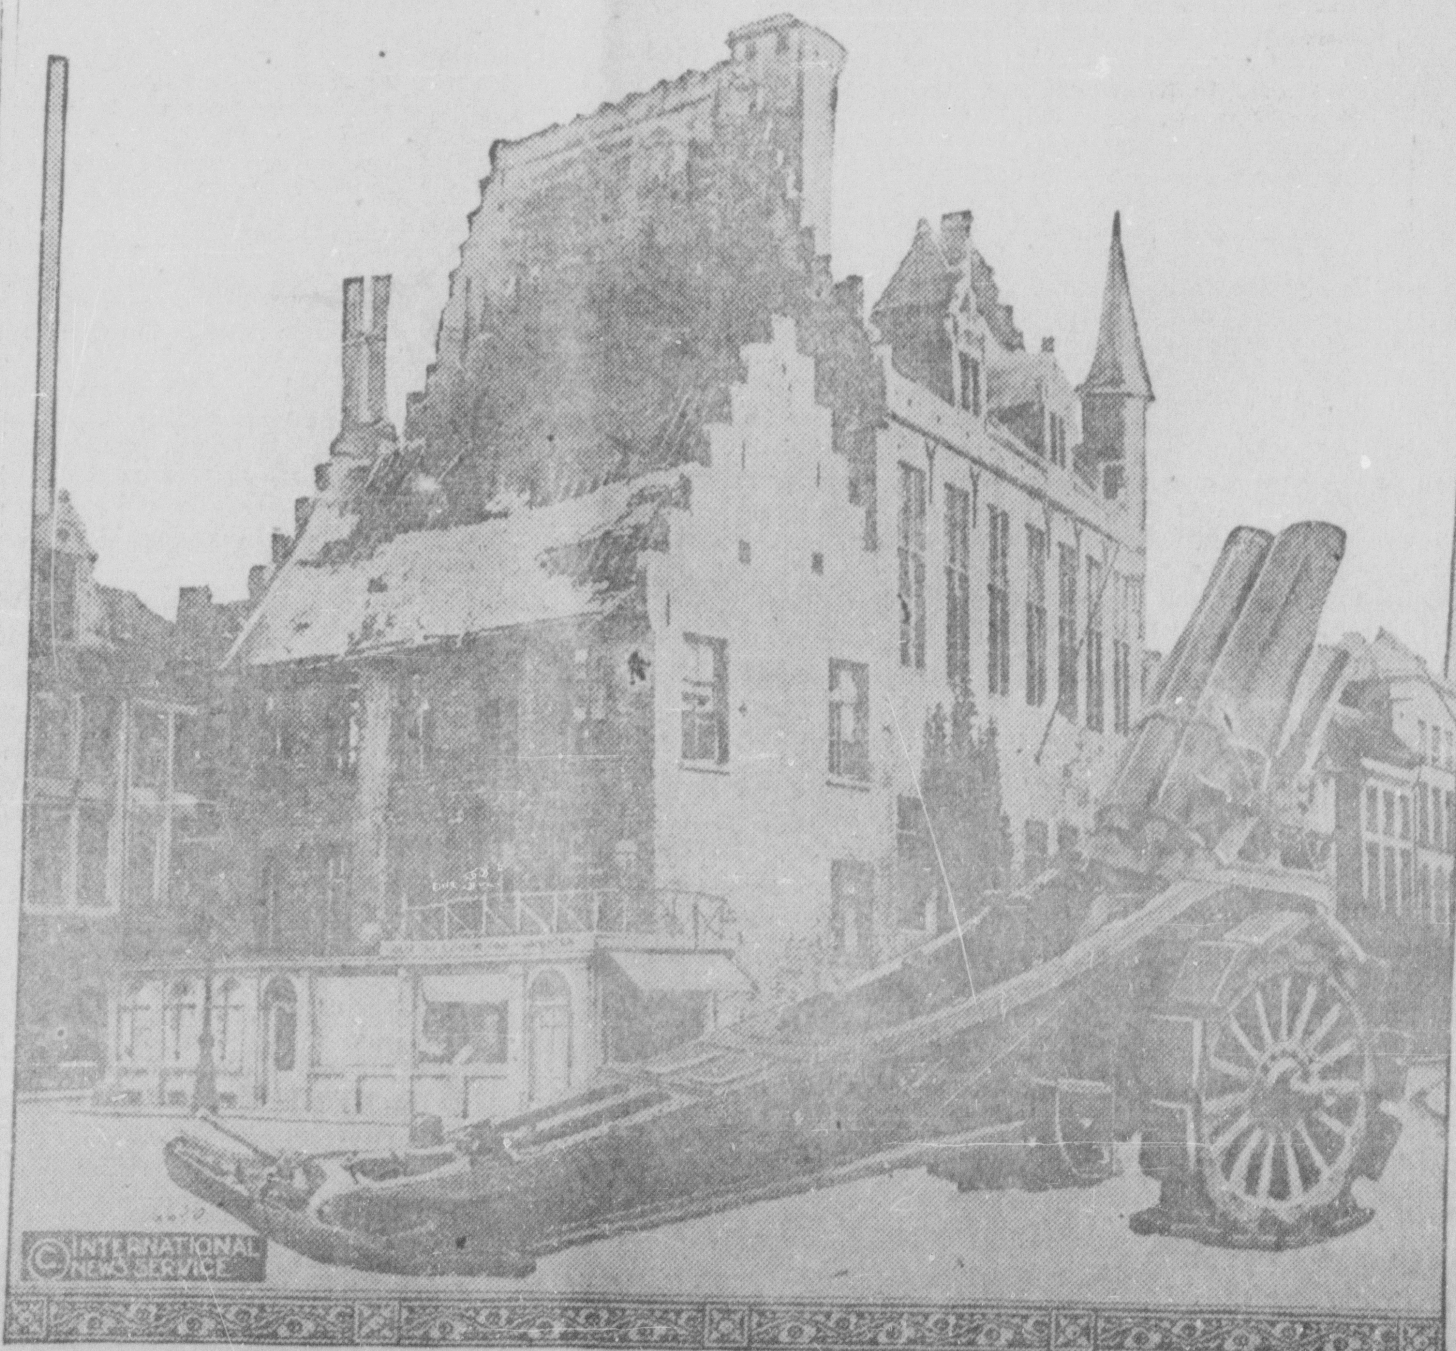

The foregoing brief dispatch is the only announcement which the Canadian censor has permitted to go over the wires regarding the disposition of the Canadian volunteers, for more than a week. Beyond the bare announcement that the Canadian volunteers had sailed, no other news of the departures was permitted to get past the censor this afternoon.

MARKET NORMAL

By Associated Press.

Pittsburg, September 24.—The crude oil market returned to its normal basis today when announcement was made by the South Pennsylvania Oil Company that it would buy all the oil producers had to offer.

WHAT THE ZEPPELIN BOMBS DID TO ANTWERP

These photographs give some idea of the effects of the dropping of bombs in Antwerp from German Zeppelins, an action that aroused indignant protest from the allies and other people.

NEW MANAGER AT EMPIRE THEATER

Herbert E. Wilson has taken over the management of the Empire theater which has been capably operated by R. H. Coleman for some months.

The new manager is favorably known in this city and intends giving patrons of the Empire the best entertainments that he is able to book.

For the present there will be vaudeville every Saturday night and when ever possible to secure it a good road show.

Mr. Wilson has not yet decided as to the installing of a moving picture show.

HORSE STOLEN

Police authorities are looking for a Circleville livery rig driven away from that city last Saturday by a man named Wilson, who has failed to return. His arrest has been ordered. The horse is a dark bay mare with white hind feet and the top buggy is rubber tired and has red gears.

CLANNISH MANXMEN.

They Still Use Their Own Tongue in Promulgating Their Laws.

The Isle of Man is in the Irish channel, about equidistant from England, Scotland and Ireland and is famed for its lovely scenery, excellent climate and the quaint old world flavor of its places and people.

Home rule has been enjoyed by the Manxmen for many years. Although there are fewer than 60,000 Manxmen, they have their own parliament and courts. The house of keys and the house of lords hold annual sessions in Douglas, the capital, and the laws they pass are read aloud every year from Tynwald hill. The statutes are proclaimed in the Manx tongue, a language as distinct from English as Italian or German.

The Isle of Man was long a bone of contention among the kings of Northumberland, Scotland, Norway and England. The government, as it is in operation today in Hall Caine's island, was established by Orr, a Scandinavian adventurer who made himself king of the island. He divided his kingdom into six shendings, and this division, with four municipal districts, still serves in the election of members of the house of keys. The bishopric of the Isle of Man is declared to have been founded by St. Patrick, who stopped off and established the see while on his way to Ireland.—New York World

A FAMOUS OLD FLAG.

The Star Spangled Banner of Fort McHenry in 1814.

Hanging from the walls of the National museum in Washington is one of the most famous flags in the world—the star spangled banner that floated over Fort McHenry during the British attack in September, 1814. The flag measures no less than 26 by 36 feet.

At the time of the battle Fort McHenry, just outside the city of Baltimore, was in command of Major George Armistead. The garrison flag that flew from its ramparts was made by a Mrs. Mary Pinkersgill, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Caroline T. Purdy.

In the battle one of the stars was shot away by a British shell. After the war the banner became the property of Major Armistead and was left by him to his daughter, Mrs. Appleton. It was from the son of that lady, Mr. Eben Appleton, that the museum received it two years ago. The arrangement is that the flag shall remain permanently in the custody of the museum and must not be permitted to leave the building to be exhibited anywhere else. Time has somewhat marred the beauty of the banner, but no American can look at the fading and worn fabric without a thrill. That is the flag that gave birth to the national anthem of his country.—Youth's Companion.

Tuberculosis Hospitals.

Convincing proof that tuberculosis sanitariums or hospitals are not a menace to health nor a detriment to the property of those living near such institutions is given in a pamphlet issued recently by the National Association For the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. In an extended study of the subject the association has not been able to find a single instance where a tuberculosis sanitarium has had an injurious effect on the health of any one living near it nor where it has had any lasting effect upon property values.

SCORES INHALE DEADLY FUMES

By Associated Press.

Jersey City, N. J., September 24.—Ten gallons of nitric acid, spilled from a carboy to the floor of the Erie railway station during the commuters rush hour today, gave off fumes which choked scores of persons to unconsciousness, made hundreds ill, stopped traffic on the Hudson tunnels for an hour and packed the station with thousands, who verged on panic until a strong force of police quieted them. No one was touched by the acid.

In perhaps forty instances, persons into whose lungs the fumes had been inhaled for several minutes before, suddenly fell over unconscious.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Care of the Feet.

Tight and ill fitting boots and shoes produce such painful complaints as corns, bunions, enlarged joints and ingrowing toe nails. Avoid neat looking boots with pointed toes, which cramp the feet like oriental bandages and become instruments of torture to the wearer. Next to too tight boots and shoes, the most potent factors for causing tender feet are badly fitting socks and stockings; these should always be chosen with as few seams as possible. To keep the feet in good condition there is nothing better than frequently bathing them with warm water in which has been placed a handful of salt. This is especially efficacious for those who suffer from tired or tender feet.

BOLIVIA'S ANCIENT RUINS.

A Move to Preserve the Remains of the City of Tiahahuaco.

The Bolivian government has recently enacted a law which forbids the carrying off or willful destruction of that portion of the ruins of the ancient city of Tiahahuaco which vandal hands have left intact. Here once stood a large and populous city, but it has lain in ruins so long that even the legendary lore of the Incas, who traced an unbroken line of kings back to the eleventh century, is dumb concerning the people who built it. It lies not far from the southern end of Lake Titicaca, its ruins covering an area of about a square mile.

The ruins themselves include the remnants of temples, palaces and other great structures. The ruins are located 13,000 feet above the level of the sea on a vast plateau where the constant cold prevents the maturing of corn or other grain. At present potatoes, oca and other edible roots are grown, but the region sustains only a scanty mountain population.

The city once covered a large area. The great structures were built by skilled masons. One stone is thirty-six feet long by seven feet wide and weighs 170 tons; another is twenty-six feet by sixteen and six feet thick.

Only the monoliths of ancient Egypt equal those found in Tiahahuaco. The movement and placing of such monoliths point to a dense population, to an organized government and consequently to a large agricultural area with means of transportation from various directions.

A SWISS CAKESHOP WOMAN.

Why the Titled Foreign Lady Treated Her So Amicably.

Swiss democracy is of quite a different pattern from that of France. In France titles of nobility which are not recognized in law are yet potent in society. In Switzerland titles are of no account except to hotel keepers, who make their waiters pay the more for their entertainment.

"One of our friends," says a writer, "recently accompanied to the exposition at Berne the wife of a famous, titled member of the diplomatic corps at the Swiss capital. On entering an elegant patisserie cakeshop at the exposition our friend bought some cakes of a respectable dame of a shopkeeper appearance. To his great surprise, he saw the ambassador who accompanied him approach the saleswoman and ask her the news of the day in a most amiable fashion and promise to make her a visit with the briefest delay.

"When they went out our friend said to the ambassador: 'Truly I did not think you so democratic. I felicitate you upon the cordiality you have shown to this cake merchant.'

"Oh, you don't know this lady," said his companion. "That is Mme. Hoffman. Her husband is now chief of the military department, vice president of the Swiss republic and will be president in six months."

"This is a beautiful example of simplicity and merits consideration by the monarchies of Europe and even of the republics of America."—Cris de Paris.

A Means of Approach.

Though I am not a smoker I like to carry matches in my pocket. One is always liable to be accosted on the street by some one in need of a light. To be able to give a match is a great luxury. It forms the basis for a momentary friendship.—Atlantic.

Names of Nations.

The names of the great nations of Europe set many puzzles to the philologist. There is no doubt that France is the country of the Franks, the free men, or that Austria is the eastern empire. But one would not so easily guess that "Russians" means rowers or seafarers—a word of Swedish origin commemorating the Scandinavian vikings. The Britons have been supposed to take their name from a word signifying variegated, in allusion to their staining their skins with woad. Most puzzling of all is "Germans," which is not the Latin "germanus," own brother, but of Celtic origin, and has been variously interpreted as meaning "the people" or "the shouters."—London Chronicle.

BEARDS IN BATTLE.

And Why Clean Shaven Men Became Prized as Warriors.

The habit of shaving is not of a very ancient origin. According to James Stephens in "Here Are Ladies," when humanity lived a quiet, rural and unambitious life men did not shave; their hair was their glory, and if they had occasion to swear, which must have been infrequent, their hardest and readiest oath was "By the beard of my father," showing clearly that this feature was held in veneration in early times and was probably accorded divine honors upon suitable occasions.

With the advent of war came the habit of shaving. A beard offered too handy a grip to a foe who had to go to close quarters; therefore, warriors who had no true hardihood of soul preferred cutting off their beards to the honorable labor of defending their chins.

Many ancient races effected a compromise in order to retain a fitting military appearance, for a bareheaded warrior has but little of terror in his aspect. The ancient Egyptians, for example, who had cut off or could not cultivate or had been forcibly deprived of their beards, were wont to go into battle clad in heavy false whiskers, which, when an enemy seized hold of them, came off instantly in his hand, and the ancient Egyptian was enabled to dispatch him while in a trance of stupefaction and horror.

Clean shaven men became by this cowardly stratagem very much prized as fighting men, and thus the foundation of the shaving habit was laid.

STRENGTH IN EXCITEMENT.

Either Fear, Rage or Pain Starts the Adrenal Glands to Work.

Many a person has wondered where he obtained the strength that enabled him to undergo some emergency that called for unusual physical exertion when under ordinary conditions he would be unable to control a tithe of that strength. It was from the adrenal glands, two little glands situated above the kidneys which secrete what is known as adrenaline and when stimulated discharge the same into the blood. The effect of this addition to the blood is to release sugar from storage in the liver and bring it into the blood, drive the blood from the abdominal regions into the heart, lungs, central nervous system and limbs. The resulting effect is to excite the muscles to irritability and enable unusual effort to be made.

Either fear, rage or pain will supply the stimulus required to set the adrenal glands into action. When a muscle is fatigued without any accompanying degree of excitement it may take a couple of hours for it to recover its normal condition, but if adrenaline is injected, or if through excitement the adrenal glands are stimulated to discharge and secrete, the fatigued muscle may regain its "irritability" in three minutes. The sugar set free from the liver and circulated in the blood stimulates the muscles, for sugar is the source of muscular energy. Fear, rage and pain are thus given us by nature as agencies to enable us to use our physical powers to their fullest extent in the crisis that produces the excitement.—Los Angeles Times.

Taken at Her Word.

A Bloomfield woman looked across her lawn to where passersby were breaking off the blossoming twigs of her favorite quince tree.

"We might as well cut the tree down as let it stand for people to destroy," said she.

Half an hour later the tree lay on the ground beside a little hatchet, while around behind the house the small boy of the family was getting a switchling with one of the branches.

This teaches us that we should be sure of our audience before we employ hyperbole in our speech.—Newark News.

Reassuring.

The clang and clatter of falling iron plates startled an old gentleman who was waiting in the office of a foundry.

"What in the world was that?" he cried.

"Don't get excited," answered the office boy, "that's only the boss counting my salary."—Youngstown Telegram.
